ISPRA VAL Department presided over the WT Award on environmental sustainability

The Assessment, Controls and Environmental Sustainability Department presided over in Milan last April 17 the Honor Committee for the Award Ceremony of WT Award 2018, International Award for Technological Innovation, 18th edition, and which was delivered, among the other topics, also for environmental sustainability.

The ceremony was attended by distinguished representatives of the business and institutional world, with also a speech of mr. Mario Cirillo, ISPRA Responsible VAL Department.

WT Award, realized in collaboration with the Metropolitan City of Milan, is an international award for sustainable technological innovation, which rewards and proposes the most innovative solutions on the international scene in terms of design, technology, and product. Past editions have seen more than 3,500 visitors, over 100 journalists and 150 publications.
